

first aid for every China Policy text

China Policy style is designed for clean and simple online presentation. We aim for as few marks on the page. We drop some established rules, particularly punctuation and capitalisation. And, like all systems, we have a few exceptions.

- 1 titles and subtitles: lowercase, unless a proper noun
- 2 dates: number before month: 12 Dec 2020 or 12 December 2020; never December 12, 2020 never add -st, -th, or -rd
- 3 numbers and currency: write out up to and including ten, but numerals for 11 and up, same for ordinal numbers; C¥5,000 not RMB or CNY
- 4 spaces: always single, no double spaces after full stop or colon
- 5 bullet points: not preceded by colon or followed by semicolon or full stop
- 6 quotes: single ("like this") double quotes inside single quotes ("like "this")
- 7 chinese names: should be written like this Yi Gang 易纲 PBoC governor, figures familiar to a general readership (Chairman Xi Jinping, Premier Li Keqiang, Chairman Mao Zedong) may be introduced with their title but without Chinese characters
- 8 affiliations: largest to smallest with no comma in-between e.g. SAMR Anti-monopoly Bureau deputy director
- 9 14th 5-year plan: never 14th five year plan, or 14th five-year plan, or 14th 5 year plan, or 14th FYP
- 10 exceptions: percent (one word) not %; 'and' not &, except R&D and M&A

we use Australian spelling—similar to UK, with a few exceptions

Australian spellings listed on the right

-ize = -ise	programme = program
-ization = -isation	license (v) licence (n)
-er = -re	defense = defence
-or = -our	judgment = judgement
-og = -ogue	sulfur = sulphur

energy, scitech, innovation analyst exercise

To be considered for this position, please complete the following three exercises in English, referring to the style guide above. Close attention to style at the drafting stage is important for our editorial process.

1. Please browse the following websites and select three to five texts on energy, scitech or innovation policy issues (between 1 July 2022 and now) that you see as most important. We are interested in policy rather than data analysis.

财新 Caixin: www.caixin.com (please skip this one if you don't have an account)

每经网 National Business Daily: <http://www.nbd.com.cn/>

科技日报 Science and Technology Daily: <http://www.stdaily.com/>

Please enter the links of the most important policy news items (three to five) within the given dates that you have chosen, and explain briefly why you picked them:

- 2.
- 3.
4. (optional)
5. (optional)

2. For one of the following government announcement texts below

- write a clear summary of the announcement in 300 words; use bullet points when appropriate
- focus on the key changes and policy content, rather than rhetoric

3. Choose one of the two commentaries below

- write a concise paragraph or two (no more than 300 words) that conveys its main points or the perspective of the commentator
- include a short introduction (two to three sentences) to explain the context and significance of these remarks and their relevance to our clients
- select a quote (up to three sentences) that you feel is distinctive in conveying the message of the text, and translate it into idiomatic English
