

first aid for every CHINA POLICY text

China Policy style is designed for clean and simple online presentation. We aim for as few marks on the page. We drop some established rules, particularly punctuation and capitalisation. And, like all systems, we have a few exceptions.

- 1 titles and subtitles: lowercase, unless a proper noun
- 2 dates: number before month: 12 Dec 2020 or 12 December 2020; never December 12, 2020 never add -st, -th, or -rd
- 3 numbers and currency: write out up to and including ten, but numerals for 11 and up, same for ordinal numbers; C¥5,000 not RMB or CNY
- 4 spaces: always single, no double spaces after full stop or colon
- 5 bullet points: not preceded by colon or followed by semicolon or full stop
- 6 quotes: single ("like this") double quotes inside single quotes ("like "this")
- 7 chinese names: should be written like this Yi Gang 易纲 PBoC governor, figures familiar to a general readership (Chairman Xi Jinping, Premier Li Keqiang, Chairman Mao Zedong) may be introduced with their title but without Chinese characters
- 8 affiliations: largest to smallest with no comma in-between e.g. SAMR Anti-monopoly Bureau deputy director
- 9 14th 5-year plan: never 14th five year plan, or 14th five-year plan, or 14th 5 year plan, or 14th FYP
- 10 exceptions: percent (one word) not %; 'and' not &, except R&D and M&A we use Australian spelling—similar to UK, with a few exceptions

Australian spellings listed on the right

-ize = -ise	programme = program
-ization = -isation	license (v) licence (n)
-er = -re	defense = defence
-or = -our	judgment = judgement
-og = -ogue	sulfur = sulphur
